DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 52-54, 56-58, 60-62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Osman et al, US. Pat. No. 5,659,718.

3. Claims 52, 56 and 60, Osman teaches a data transmission method used between a data supply device [transmitting device] and a target device [receiving device], said method comprising the steps of:

locking the target device such that the target device does not receive communication control from another device [locking out other devices from writing to a buffer in the receiving device, see abstract, col. 4, lines 45-48];

transmitting capability information of the target device to the data supply device from the locked target device [abstract, col. 4, lines 43-44, col. 13, lines 10-28]; and transmitting data to the locked target device from the data supply device based on the capability information [abstract, col. 4, lines 48-51].

Art Unit: 2116

4. Claims 53, 57, 61, Osman teaches the capability information includes buffer information which indicates a buffer size of receiving data of the target device or the number of available buffers of the target device [abstract, col. 4, lines 43-44].

5. Claims 54, 58, 62, Osman teaches the data supply device transmits the data in a unit of the data amount indicated by the buffer information, and the target device receives the data transferred in the unit [col. 13, lines 10-28].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 55, 59 and 63 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Osman et al, US. Pat. No. 5,659,718.

8. Claims , Claim 55, 59 and 63, Osman fails to teach the bus is based on IEEE 1394 standards.

8. Official Notice is taken that both the concept and the advantages of IEEE 1394 bus system is old and well known in the art.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the teachings of Osman to have the bus being based on an IEEE 1394 standard, because it provides a high-speed inexpensive serial bus architecture which supports both asynchronous and isochronous format data transfers, thereby providing a universal input/output connection for interconnecting digital devices including, for example, audio-visual equipment and personal computers.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
